Cable visit a boost for town businesses

BUSINESS Secretary Vince Cable was in Harlow yesterday afternoon (Wednesday) to visit a firm that has recently finished work on a new extension and introduced state-of-the-art technology.

The Liberal Democrat MP was taken on a tour of the Edinburgh Way premises of sheet metal fabricators Harlow Group to find out more about the company's success and growth.

Mr Cable told the Star: "The Government is focused on manufacturing industries in the north of England as traditionally this is where the majority are, but there are some very, very good manufacturing operations in the rest of England.

"Harlow Group is a good example of that - and they need help, too."

The company has recently added more than 5,000 square feet to its manufacturing operation, introducing a new fibre optic laser cutting machine to increase capacity and provide a competitive solution to its global customer base.

The new machine and extra floor space represents more than £500,000 worth of investment in the business.

Mr Cable said: "I have only been here a short time but I am massively impressed. It is a highly successful manufacturing firm that seems to be growing well.

"This kind of high precision manufacturing is what we need to see if we are to bring the industry back to England from overseas. I have not picked up on anything negative here at Harlow Group. It seems a successful, efficient business in Harlow."

Commercial director Gary Hollister said:

"We are delighted to have Vince Cable visit us. It re-enforces the message that business is growing and improving in the Harlow area.

"The Business Secretary's visit is like a rubber stamp that Harlow Group and businesses in the area are strong and continuing to grow."

Mr Cable was joined on his tour of the business by Harlow Group's managing director Bill Timpson.

Afterwards, Mr Cable held a private meeting with members of the town's Enterprise Zone group.

"I know there has been a bit of a struggle to make full use of the Enterprise Zone's position but that is what the meeting is about - to find out more and ask questions."

The Harlow Enterprise Zone was given a further £11.2m in funding in January this year.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Four appear in court after being charged with violent disorder

FOUR people have appeared in court charged with violent disorder following an incident in Bishopscote, Harlow, earlier this year.

Several members of the public contacted police to report their concerns about a fight in the road, damage to cars and disorder in the early hours of Saturday, January 18.

Detectives obtained warrants to search three properties in Harlow and one in Bournmouth last Thursday and a number of suspects were arrested and interviewed.

Four people - two from Harlow, one from north London and one from Bournmouth - were subsequently charged with violent disorder and appeared at Chelmsford Magistrates Court on Saturday.

A 47-year-old woman from Harlow arrested on suspicion of possession of a firearm as been released on police bail pending further enquiries.

Discount retailer Poundland opens second store in Harlow

BUDGET chain store Poundland is opening its second store in Harlow today (Thursday).

The new shop at Staple Tye has created 20 new jobs.

Poundland already has a store in the Harvey Centre and is currently building a distribution centre at Pinnacles which is likely to create up to 650 new jobs.

Trading director Richard Lancaster said: "We are delighted to be opening a second store in Harlow. The existing store has been very popular and we are confident the second store will be just as successful."

Firefighters sent to block of flats after alarm is activated CREWS were called to a block of flats in Harlow in the early hours of Monday after a fire set off an automatic alarm.

Firefighters from Harlow, Old Harlow and Epping were sent to the block in Great Plumtree at 2.45am.

The fire had started in a second floor flat but had been extinguished by the time they arrived.

Children in hospital get an egg-cellent delivery

CHOC'S AWAY: Richard Webb and Oily Spence of The Transporter delivered Easter eggs to Princess Alexandra Hospital (photo: Eclipse Photography, Harlow)

A DELIVERY business donated more than 100 Easter eggs to Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The Transporter, a firm specialising in local deliveries, was able to collect 135 Easter eggs from staff and customers which were then taken to PAH's Dolphin Ward, Samson Ward, the neonatal intensive care unit and the children's accident and emergency department.

Richard Webb, pictured, and Oily Spence of The Transporter delivered the eggs - as well as 20 teddy bears and a box of sweet treats.

Mr Webb said: "It was a raving success and we're really pleased. We ended up doing a bit of a trawl through the hospital and donated the eggs between Dolphin Ward, Samson Ward, the neonatal unit and the children's A&E department. Everyone was really grateful."

Lottery boost for cricket club plan

PLANS to overhaul Harlow Cricket Club's ageing facilities have been given a £500,000 financial boost thanks to a lottery grant.

The cricket club proposals for a new clubhouse is one of 28 projects across England to share in £9.6m of National Lottery investment from the latest round of funding, which focuses on minimising the environmental impact of sports facilities by investing in sustainable projects with a clear local need.

Club chairman Simon Radbourne said: "Harlow Cricket Club is delighted to be part of Sport England's initiative to improve grass roots facilities. The club works hard to be part of the local community and to develop a life-long interest in sport in its young people."

In 2012, the club, which plays in Shepherd Neame Essex

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

League Division One, was granted permission to build a new clubhouse and car park at its two grounds in Marigolds - the team's home for more than 150 years. The structure, designed by local architect Christopher Snow, of New Town Studio, will be built to English Cricket Board standards and will feature four changing rooms, an umpire's room, club lounge, licensed bar, toilets and an office.

Parts of the new building will also be available for public hire and used to host live music and entertainment throughout the year, helping to cement the club's position at the heart of the local community.

The new facility will be environmentally friendly and will be available for activities outside of the cricket season including yoga, pilates and some martial arts.

Sport England property director Charles Johnston said: "We know people have a better experience of sport when they have good facilities in which to play. This investment will ensure the people of Harlow will be able to develop a sporting habit for life in a first-class, environmentally sustainable sports facility."

As part of the Sport England criteria, the club has to show it can find partner funders for the building.

The cricket club is its way to achieving this but still needs to find further 'partners' to bridge the funding gap.

Anyone who wants to support the project should contact Paul Baxter on paulbaxter.riverside@ntlworld.com.

Government policies fuelled the increase in food thefts

SIR Harlow MP Robert Halfon states the reasons for a 39 per cent increase in the theft of food from shops in Harlow and a 67 per cent increase in referrals to Harlow Foodbank are "deep and complex" (Star, April 10).

Mr Halfon's obfuscation is an attempt to wash his hands of responsibility for the economic distress inflicted on working class people by his Conservative Party and its Liberal Democrat partner, which has fuelled the increase in thefts of food and the rise in the demand for the services of foodbanks.

According to the outdated neo-liberal ideology to which Mr Halfon subscribes, the billions of pounds in capital standing idle in a recession will only start to flow once more if labour costs are reduced. In other words, economic recovery must come at the expense of the working class.

Both the cuts in wages in the state sector and the reductions in social security benefits imposed by the government Mr Halfon supports act to depress wages in the private sector. Thus it is in the interests of all workers to oppose measures such as the bedroom tax – but they cannot rely on the Labour Party to represent their interests.

Sad to say, Ed Miliband's Labour Party has not repudiated Tony Blair's neo-liberal legacy and supports cuts in social security benefits and state provision. Locally, Harlow's Labour-ruled council implemented a 24 per cent cut in council tax relief for jobless householders last year which is a bigger cut than that imposed by some Conservative-ruled councils.

The hundreds of unemployed people taken to court and threatened with bailiffs by Harlow Council for the "crime" of being unable to afford to pay council tax have no reason to vote Labour at the local elections next month, for their plight would have been no worse had the Conservatives been in control at the Civic Centre.

Is anybody actually managing roadworks at roundabout?

SIR Can someone explain why the inside lane at the Burnt Mill roundabout near Harlow Town station was dug up for the third time?

Several weeks ago the size of the island was reduced to allow the installation of an inside lane. Then that inside lane was partially dug up and all lanes were resurfaced.

But on the morning of last Monday the inside lane was dug up in two places. At best this looks like very poor workmanship and at worst extremely

"We have a bird feeder hanging from a tree," he writes. "However, we often get a local squirrel hanging upside down to feed himself with the nuts. We have seen him feeding like this quite often over the last few years and the family have now named him Bob."

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

poor planning.

I do not need to remind you of the additional cost to taxpayers in all of this resurfacing, not to mention the extended period of traffic disruption that this causes.

I have to ask, is there someone actually managing this project and can they explain this sequence of events?

Tony Wiseman
Purford Green, Harlow

School crossing and speed sign have improved safety

SIR As a local teacher and a councillor for the Summers and Kingsmoor ward, I have always been concerned by the level and speed of traffic outside the schools in Harlow.

The traffic outside Milwards Primary School has been particularly worrying. Residents have also raised their concerns with me regarding the hazard the traffic poses to pupils crossing the road before and after school.

Having raised my concerns and those of local residents with both our MP and Essex County Council I am very pleased that a new pelican crossing has been installed outside the school. The crossing should enable pupils of Milwards to cross the road safely.

I would like to thank Mr Halfon and my council colleague Guy Mitchinson for their hard work in getting the new crossing installed.

I would also like to thank Cllr Mitchinson for the work he has undertaken in getting the vehicle activated sign installed on Parsloe Road. This sign displays the speed a car is travelling at if it exceeds the speed limit of the road.

A study conducted by TRL for the Department for Transport found that vehicle activated signs appear to be very effective in reducing speeds. In particular, they are capable of reducing the number of drivers who exceed the speed limit and who contribute disproportionately to the accident risk, without the need for enforcement, for example speed cameras.

Cllr Russell Perrin (Conservative)
Civic Centre, Harlow

Stupidity of driver shows why we need lollipop patrollers

SIR Further to the letter about irresponsible motorists (Star, April 10), I would like to add my recent experience.

I was walking along Watlington Road close to Harlowbury School at going-home time when a van mounted the pavement a few feet in front of me and drove at normal road speed along the pavement for at least 30 metres before being forced back onto the road by the pillar of a 'children crossing' road sign a few metres from the school gates.

Doubtless the driver thought he was being public spirited by going off the road to allow the school-run traffic to pass in the opposite direction.

With drivers prepared to act so stupidly so close to a school entrance, it is clear that lollipop crossing patrols are an essential service for the protection of children.

I agree with your correspondent when she asks how Essex County Council can justify cutting back on lollipop patrols when there are such irresponsible people on the roads.

Children should be encouraged to walk to school for their own health and that of the environment, and they need to be able to do so safely. If County Hall cuts crossing patrols, a likely knock-on effect could be more parents taking their children to school by car, causing more congestion and more accidents outside schools.

County councillors need to realise that lollipop patrolled crossings are a necessity, not an optional extra, and should think again before cutting this service.

Mary Wiltshire
Old Road, Harlow

Penalty for parking offence is neither fair nor proportionate

SIR I am a retired lady who usually walks to my local shops in Old Harlow. Having been out of the country for three weeks, I happened to be returning home in my car and remembered that I needed to collect my prescribed medicines from the chemist.

Unfortunately, I had a senior moment and forgot that you must now display a 'first hour free' parking ticket. On returning to my car I was most upset to realise my mistake as a parking attendant had just issued me with a penalty charge notice.

She saw my distress at the injustice of having to pay £25 to park when it should have been free due to an unfortunate oversight by me and made a note that I had apologised profusely and was extremely distressed at being made to feel like a criminal. She suggested that I should appeal against the charge and was very pleasant and reassuring.

However, the North Essex Parking Partnership - which claims to operate a fair and proportionate standard - has decided that my senior moment is not to be excused and is expecting my "discount" charge of £25 to be paid up in full within 10 days of the date of the letter.

To my mind there is nothing fair and proportionate about this decision.

I would have been excused had I been involved in an emergency, either vehicle breakdown or medical. So instead of feeling sorry for myself I ought perhaps to be thinking how lucky I am.

Hat's the way to hold a celebration of Easter

RESIDENTS at a care home in Harlow celebrated Easter by making and wearing their own bonnets. Town MP Robert Halfon was invited to Alexandra House, in Hamstel Road, to judge the competition. The winner was the creation of Alma Coleman, with Peggy Diggins in second and Eileen Reis in third.

Deirdre Nicol, activities co-ordinator at Alexandra House, said: "It was our first Easter bonnet judging and it went really well."

"Mr Halfon came along and we had a first, second and third prize winners as well as six runners-up."

"It was a lovely day and everyone had a chance to enjoy the weather as well, which was nice. All the residents seemed to have a really good time."

She added: "We have spent a lot of time making the bonnets and they all came out really well."

"Mr Halfon had not judged a bonnet competition before either so it was a first for everyone. It was a really good day."

ARCHIVE footage from the collection of the world-famous British Pathé news service has gone online to watch for free – and includes some interesting films from Harlow's past.

British Pathé has uploaded its entire collection of 85,000 historic films, in high resolution format, to its YouTube channel.

The unprecedented release of vintage news reports and cinema magazines is part of a drive to make the archive more accessible to viewers all over the world.

"Our hope is that everyone, everywhere who has a computer will see these films and enjoy them," says Alastair White, general manager of British Pathé.

"This archive is a treasure trove unrivalled in historical and cultural significance that should never be forgotten. Uploading the films to YouTube seemed like the best way to make sure of that."

Could you find a future in fostering?

Our foster carers come from many different backgrounds and circumstances. What they all have in common is knowing that giving a child the stability and warmth of family life is one of the most rewarding things you can do.

If you're over 21 and have a spare room which could be used solely for fostering, please get in touch. You don't need to be married or have your own children to be able to foster.

Fond memories of town's gang shows

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE photograph of the Harlow gang show published in Nostalgia a couple of weeks ago has sparked fond memories for two of those involved.

After seeing the photograph Sue Rowley, formerly of Harlow and now living in Yorkshire, sent in this picture, of the gang show's fathers and sons.

The gang show was, and still is, a theatrical performance based on the ideas of British actor and theatrical producer Ralph Reader, who created the original show back in the 1930s.

Ms Rowley, who organised a reunion for the Harlow gang show in the 1980s at Risden Park, said: "The photo brought back happy memories for me. I became involved with the show in 1963 through my dad's involvement with the 9th Harlow Scouts, one of the founding groups of the show along with the 5th Harlow and the 6th Harlow groups.

"For many years I helped to do the make-up for the boys and men in the show which was held in various schools around the town during the school Easter holidays. The last two shows in 1972 and 1973 were held in The Playhouse, and I am still in touch with many friends from those days.

"All the shows were produced by Mervyn Rutter, a local Scoutmaster who did a wonderful job."

Katherine Hollis, 84, was also part of the gang show crowd - as were her husband Lee and sons Kevin and Mark.

She said: "My husband was the stage manager and my two sons were in the show as well. I did all the catering and used to sell ice creams.

"Both my boys were part of the Scouts and in the gang show. My daughter Sandra, who I would take along in her pram, was known as the gang show baby. She's 45 now.

"I remember the 1972 show was the first year it was held at The Playhouse. It had been held at schools before that - Burnt Mill was one I remember."

On air: radio station's first broadcast

RADIO listeners in Harlow will probably remember local station ten17 fm and former staff will be celebrating a very special anniversary next month.

On Saturday, May 3 they will hold a reunion to mark 21 years since the station first went on air.

These photographs were sent to Nostalgia by Gavin Inskip, who is helping to promote the celebrations.

The event will give previous ten17 team members a chance to catch up and share their memories and experiences of their time at the station, which was based at the Latton Bush

Centre in Southern Way. The reunion will be held at the nearby Park Inn Hotel, on Southern Way, Harlow. Tickets are £35 and include a three-course meal and drinks.

A Facebook group has also been set up.

Anyone who was involved with ten17 and who wants to attend the celebration should contact Gavin by email to gavin@gavininskip.com.

Pensioner's humiliation after being arrested for public decency offence

A PENSIONER who was caught pleasuring himself while looking at a pornographic magazine while sitting in his car has admitted outraging public decency.

Retired engineer John Kelleher, 76, of Willowfield, Harlow, pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Magistrates Court to the offence which occurred on April 1.

Denise Holland, prosecuting, said a man and woman were walking their dog in Church Road, Harlow, when they passed the vehicle.

"Kelleher was sitting in the driver's seat with his trousers down, masturbating while reading a pornographic magazine," said Ms Holland. "[The witness] was disgusted and called the police. The defendant was arrested and taken to Harlow Police Station."

Liz Middleton, representing Kelleher, said in mitigation he thought it was secluded area and was nowhere near a school. "He didn't intend anyone to see him; he wasn't aware the couple were there walking their dog."

She said he made full admissions when interviewed and was of previous good character.

"He was held overnight but has heart problems and suffers anxiety and blood pressure and police took him home," said Ms Middleton. "He's totally embarrassed and would like to apologise. He has been married for 30 years and he's been humiliated by the whole procedure and suffered considerably as a result."

Kelleher was given a 12-month conditional discharge and ordered to pay £85 costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Chairman of the bench Diane Roche told him: "As there was no intent we shall impose a conditional discharge but any further offences in the next 12 months will result in further punishment for this offence."

MP hails fall in jobless as success for reforms

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE number of people claiming unemployment benefit in Harlow fell last month.

Figures released by the Office for National Statistics show the town's unemployment total of 1,850 for March was 110 fewer than in February and 1.2 per cent lower than in March of last year.

The total is equivalent to 3.5 per cent of the 16-64 age group who are considered to be "economically active".

The figures have been welcomed by Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who said: "There is still a long way to go but the strong figures at least show the Government's welfare, economic and tax reforms to help businesses and lower earners are making a real difference."

However, his Labour rival Suzy Stride said: "It's welcome that unemployment is falling but people in Harlow are still facing a cost-of-living crisis. Wages have only just caught up with prices, meaning that people are on average £1,600 a year worse off under this government than they were under Labour."

"On top of this, the quality of the work people are getting is not as good as it should be. We are

All smiles for eggs giveaway

THERE was no need for parents to shell out on Easter treats for their children when the Water Gardens team joined forces with Asda to hand out more than 1,000 chocolate eggs to shoppers on Saturday.

Youngsters Natalie Ava McLaughlin and Amelia Ramsaran, pictured left, were the first to receive their surprise gifts from Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy and the Easter Bunny.

Shoppers could also enter a free competition to win a Citroen C1 car while entertainment was laid on throughout the day.

Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy said: "We really enjoyed it. It is a lovely gesture and enables us to wish our shoppers a happy Easter and put a smile on children's faces."

"It is incredible how many families there were shopping with us on Saturday."

The competition to win the car closes today (Thursday). To enter, visit the website at www.thewatergardensharlow.com.

seeing a lot of people in part-time work or on insecure zero-hour contracts which means they are unable to earn as much as they could do and are often unsure how much they will get from one week to the next."

She added: "The Government also still has to do more to tackle long-term unemployment. We still have 75 young people in Harlow who have been claiming JSA for more than a year and 290 over-25s who have been out of work for more than two years."

Meanwhile, Mr Halfon has visited the new Sir Charles Kao University Technical College which will cater for students aged 14-19 when it opens on the Harlow College site next year.

He told the Star: "I have a passion for vocational education and worked hard for over two years to persuade the Government to invest in a UTC for our town."

"The new UTC is funded with up to £10m from the Department of Education. None of this would have happened without the strong support and sponsorship of Harlow College, Princess Alexandra Hospital, Anglia Ruskin University and a number of businesses. I think this UTC will be one of the most exciting things to happen in Harlow for a generation."

"When it is up and running, this new school will transform the lives and opportunities of thousands of young people."

Hospital sports day organisers hoping for another winner

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

IT is one of Princess Alexandra Hospital's most successful fundraising events and organisers are hoping this year will be the best yet.

Consultant pathologist Dr Salam Al-Sam will again host the Harlow hospital's sports day to raise money for the cancer unit and diagnostic departments.

The day will feature 20 different events including an egg and spoon race, 100m sprint and a Victorian wheel spinning race. It will be held at Harlow Town Football Club's Arena stadium and there will also be a football match between hospital staff.

It is the fourth event Dr Salam has organised for the hospital.

"It is about engaging the hospital staff and the local community through sport, to show children that sport is good for them and to give the hardworking staff of the hospital a break and a day out to meet the community," he said.

"The event is also to raise money to support the cancer services and other units at the hospital and ensure that we buy the equipment we need to give a better service to the Harlow community. We just want to continue to support our hospital."

The sports day, which has raised more than £20,000 since it was first held in 2011, is open to the whole community.

Labour parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride, who has been involved with the fundraiser since it started, said: "It has been fantastic to be part of it for the past three years, helping them in their fight against cancer by raising thousands through bringing the community together."

"I really would encourage the whole Harlow community to come out and support such an important cause."

The sports day takes place on Saturday, May 10 from 1pm. Tickets cost £5 (children under 7s free) while family tickets (two adults and up to four children) are £10.

They are available from the cashier's office at PAH or by emailing Dr Salam at salam.al-sam@pah.nhs.uk or Gill Izzard at gill.izzard@pah.nhs.uk.

Jessica receives top Guide award

A MEMBER of the 1st Tye Green Guides has received one of the highest awards in the movement.

Jessica Whitelegg, 15, of The Hides, was presented with the Baden Powell Award, certificate and badge by Valerie Jones, a member of the Harlow Trefoil Guild.

The award recognises the commitment a Guide shows to their duties.

To win the award, Burnt Mill Academy pupil Jessica was required to complete 10 challenges in different areas of the Guide programme covering topics such as global awareness and discovery.

She also attended a Baden Powell adventure event during which she met other Guides from across Essex and took part in various activities.

May fundraisers for Scout group

A HARLOW Scout group whose hut was destroyed in an arson attack in 2011 is holding several fundraising events to help pay for the building of a new hut.

The 7th Harlow group started building work on the new hut at the beginning of the year which will provide a permanent home for Scouts, Guides and Beavers.

The group will be hosting a family rare night on Friday, May 23 at Paringdon Social Club. Tickets to the night, which starts at 7pm, cost £3 for adults and £2 for children.

Residents are invited to back a horse for a £5 donation in a bid to win a rosette and a prize which includes champagne, wine and various gift vouchers.

Raising money for Derwent Centre

THE Friends of the Derwent Centre will be showing they have a head for heights when they take part in next month's Church Langley water tower abseil organised by the Harlow Tye Rotary Group to raise funds for the centre.

Children from the Kiddi Caru nursery in Kiln Lane, Harlow, will also be supporting the centre by wearing their pyjamas in return for a small donation.

The Friends group is also organising a concert.

Clairvoyance night for rescue funds

A VOLUNTEER at Chestnut Cat Sanctuary at Thornwood Common has organised an event to raise funds.

The team will be raising money for Help for Heroes.

Kevin said: "We have been training every Sunday all over Harlow and we're all really looking forward to it."

"We filmed our training and set up the Facebook page so that people could follow our journey all the way to the event on Sunday."

Hundreds walk with cross on Good Friday

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

SCORES of people gathered in the town centre on Good Friday for Heart4Harlow's annual walk with the cross.

Among those who took part in the procession was Harlow Council chairman Linda Pailing, who joined the crowd gathered outside St Paul's Church in Playhouse Square for the start of the walk through the town.

The procession snaked its way through the Water Gardens, Broad Walk and Market Square before ending in the Harvey Centre.

Along the way the walkers stopped at various points during which there was a reading from the Bible, a prayer and a song.

The walkers were stewarded by the town's Street Pastors and volunteers took it in turns to carry a cross at the front of the procession.

They also collected tins of food which will be donated to Harlow Foodbank.

Town chaplain Robert Findlay, who organises the walk, said: "The event reminds walkers and on-lookers of the death of Jesus on the cross. People of all ages took part, from babes in buggies to octogenarians who joined the walk for the last stop.

"More people joined in as the walk progressed and all were cheerfully stewarded by the Street Pastors."

He added: "Jesus carried the can for us, paying the price for our wrong-doings, so we carried cans of compassion for those in need which will be donated to the Harlow Foodbank."

Thief steals teen's custom-built bike

A TEENAGER was robbed of his distinctive, bright red dirt bike as he was cycling in Harlow on Saturday.

The 16-year-old victim was riding along the path between Newhall and London Road at about 6.40pm when he was approached from behind by somebody wearing a grey hoody. He held a pointed weapon against the teenager's back and demanded the bike.

The suspect, who is described as of slim build and who spoke with a deep voice, rode off on the custom-made bright red bike which has black wheels and red hubs.

DC Mike Ferguson said: "If anyone sees this in a garden or sees someone riding it around the Harlow area, I urge them to contact police on 101."

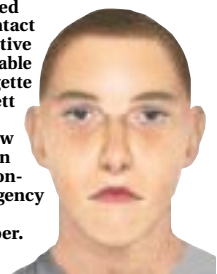

Police e-fit clue to robbery suspect

POLICE have issued an e-fit picture of a man they want to identify in connection with a street robbery in Harlow earlier this month.

The 51-year-old victim handed over £10 after he was threatened by a man with a pint glass near the Willow Beauty pub in Hodings Road shortly before 11pm on Wednesday, April 9.

The suspect is described as white, aged between 20-25 years old, 5ft 6inches tall, slim build and with a blemish under his eye.

Anyone who recognises the man from the e-fit or has information about the incident is urged to contact Detective Constable Georgette Beckett at Harlow CID on the non-emergency 101 number.

Apprentice help from County Hall

ESSEX County Council has pledged to support businesses in high growth sectors by creating new or additional apprenticeship places by offering financial support for companies.

Since 2009, the county council-managed Essex Apprenticeship programme has supported 1,556 employers to recruit 2,745 young people into an apprenticeship. More funding is now available to help even more businesses to do the same.

The Essex Apprentice programme provides funding to businesses as an incentive to employ apprentices aged 16-24 in a variety of sectors.

Cllr Kevin Bentley, deputy leader and cabinet member for economic growth and infrastructure, said: "We are committed to helping young people in Essex achieve their full potential through learning as well as supporting employers to generate wealth, jobs and opportunity."

Businesses in the energy, engineering, science, technology, financial and health and social care sectors are being sought.

For more information, email apprenticeships@essex.gov.uk.

Kier offers college students on-job training

THREE students have been getting experience of the construction and maintenance industry thanks to Kier Harlow.

Kier is working in partnership with Harlow College to provide work experience placements to students to help them gain skills in various trades including carpentry, plastering, bricklaying and fencing.

Aaran Vaughan, 16, Dexter Blake, 17, and Sam White, 17 - pictured above - were selected after a series of interviews with Kier and all three will train for six months across a range of trades. Aaran plans to specialise in bricklaying while Dexter and Sam will focus on carpentry.

They will work with Kier for two days each week to accompany their college commitments.

Kier regional operations director John Phillips said: "We work closely with Harlow College to provide the very best work experience placements, structuring them in a way that offers students the freedom to learn the trades that interest them and support this with structured training and tuition."

THE Harlow Business Exhibition returns to the town in the summer with organisers hard at work to make it the biggest and best yet.

Business-boosting seminars will run throughout the day while on-site catering and live entertainment is also planned.

Exhibition co-director Ian Hudson, general manager of Harlow & District Chamber of Commerce, said it offered local firms a unique, low-cost opportunity to promote their business.

"The Harlow Business Exhibition is about getting all these companies under one roof to network, make new contacts, learn new skills and find new customers," he said.

"The organisers all live or work in Harlow and are extremely passionate about what Harlow can do for your business."

Council to spend £44,000 on Town Park fitness trail

HARLOW Council has been handed more than £46,000 to deliver two projects designed to encourage residents to take part in more outdoor activities.

The council, which is a member of the Active Harlow and the Community Sport and Physical Activity Network, will use the £44,200 of the £46,200 grant from the Harlow Health Centres Trust to create a fitness trail in the Town Park. The trail will incorporate a number of different workouts designed to give those using them a full workout.

The remaining £2,000 is match funding which will go towards developing Parkrun, a 5km run organised by volunteers that will take place in the park every Saturday morning.

A council spokesman said: "The fitness trail will be a very valuable asset for Harlow. Anything that encourages residents to be active and lead healthy lifestyles is a very positive thing and this will do just that.

"It will be another attraction drawing people into the Town Park and complements the Heritage Lottery Fund works taking place as well. The best thing about this facility is that, unlike a conventional gym, there will be no joining fee or monthly membership fee to pay. Residents will be able to turn up and use it as and when they want to."

He said the council was working in partnership with members of Harlow Running Club to develop the Parkrun initiative.

"Parkrun is proving popular all over the country and we have been receiving positive comments from residents interested in taking part," he said. "Parkrun is for all abilities, is a fantastic way for residents to start exercising and an excellent gateway into running and athletics for those residents that want to take it a bit more seriously."

Derek Fenny, a trustee of the Harlow Health Centres Trust, said: "The trust is more than willing to support these projects. It does this as part of its health and wellbeing strategy which is there to help organisations improve the health and wellbeing of Harlow residents."

To find out more about the volunteering opportunities provided by Parkrun, email chris.purvis@harlow.gov.uk or call (01279) 446435.

Mum left 'sick with worry' after daughter fails to get any of four preferred schools

A SAWBRIDGEWORTH mum has told how she has been left "sick with worry" after her daughter was not given a place at one of her preferred primary schools.

Former Star news editor Louise Waterman, 31, was disgusted to learn that her four-year-old daughter Erin had not secured a place at Fawbert and Barnard Infants, which is less than half a mile from the family's home in Meadow Way, or at the three closest primaries - Mandeville, Spellbook and Sheering.

Instead Erin was offered a place at Tany's Dell School in Harlow which her parents have refused.

Erin, who currently attends the nursery at Fawbert and Barnard, is now on the continuing interest list for her chosen schools but faces the prospect of having to travel across the county border to attend school if she does not get a place.

"When you put down your four closest schools according to the council's own website, you don't expect not to get any of them," said Louise, who is 30 weeks pregnant with her third child.

"It's beyond disgusting. We now have months of uncertainty to see if Erin gets a place. If she doesn't I have no idea what we will do."

Hertfordshire County Council's admissions team processed more than 18,300 applications this year with 94 per cent being offered a place at one of their preferred schools.

Those who were unsuccessful will be allocated a place through the continuing interest process.

An additional 30 places will be available at Stortford's Windhill primary and Sawbridgeworth's Mandeville primary through this process. However, some local families may have to travel as far as Hitchin, Watford, Welwyn Garden City or Hoddesdon.

Fellow Sawbridgeworth mum

Victoria Benn, 36, has found herself in the same situation with her son George.

"Considering we live here it was a shock that we got nothing at all," said the mum-of-two. "I've been left with a sick feeling in my stomach and we're in limbo at the moment."

A county council spokesman said: "We understand that this is a difficult time for parents. All parents have been supplied with information about what to do next."

Don't miss out on Midnight Walk 2-for-£20 offer

THEY say good things come in threes but fundraisers at St Clare Hospice prefer good things in twos. And that is why they are offering a 2-for-£20 deal for people who sign up early for this year's Midnight Walk.

But you will have to be quick if you want to take advantage of this offer because it ends at midnight next Wednesday (April 30).

Grab your family, friends or workmates for double the fun at the Star-backed walk which this year has an '80s theme. And you can choose between a 5km or 10km route, both of which start from the Water Gardens in Harlow town centre on Saturday, June 28.

Hundreds of people are expected to take part in the biggest event in the St Clare calendar, helping to raise thousands of pounds for their local hospice.

One couple already signed up are Midnight Walk veterans Terry and Una Minihane, pictured above right, who have supported the event year after year in recognition of the skilled and compassionate care shown to their loved ones by the hospice.

Terry's dad, Sonnie, was cared for by the hospice staff more than 10 years ago while, more recently, a close friend spent her final days there.

"That first-hand experience gave us the insight of how the hospice helps people deal with end-of-life care and wow, what a service that is," said Terry. "The care and dignity given to people by this wonderful place is second to none."

Una added: "We can't wait to support the Midnight Walk again this year and we think the '80s theme is brilliant! The '80s hold lots of lovely memories for us as we got married in 1981 and also had our children, James and Colette, during that decade."

Terry said: "It's a great night and the atmosphere is fantastic, which is why we do it every year. It feels good to be part of such a big and exciting event raising money for the hospice and all the great work it does supporting local families."

To register for the Midnight Walk visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk/midnight.html or call the fundraising team on (01279) 773750.

Remember, there is less than a week left to take advantage of the 2-for-£20 sign-up offer so make sure you register before next Wednesday. Registration after that date is £15 per person.

Funnyman Ed has a ball as he picks the winning ticket

COMEDIAN Ed Byrne dipped head first into a yellow zorb to draw the winning ticket for the St Clare Hospice spring raffle.

Submerged in more than 32,000 tickets, the Irish funnyman pulled Vera Morley's name from the giant inflatable as St Clare staff, volunteers, patients and guests gathered in the hospice courtyard to watch.

Mrs Morley, from Old Harlow, won the first prize of a brand new Ford Studio KA after the hospice teamed up with local Ford dealership Gates of Harlow.

The second prize of £1,500 cash went to Vera Eley, from Harlow, while the third prize of £1,000 worth of holiday vouchers was won by Penny Hampson, one of the specialist palliative care nurses at the hospice.

The raffle raised a record-breaking £32,251.

St Clare's director of fundraising and marketing Elizabeth Palfreman said: "It was great to have Ed here at the hospice for the draw. He was such a good sport agreeing to get into the zorb to draw the winning ticket, much to the delight of everyone who gathered to watch."

"We would like to say a huge congratulations to all three of our lucky winners and a big thank you to every single person who bought a ticket to help raise an incredible amount of money and make this year's spring raffle our most successful ever."

HOMES & GARDENS

WITH the recent economic climate giving many people cause for concern, it's no surprise that the housing market has seen a slow down as more and more of us decide to stay put rather than enter into the uncertain world of a new home and larger mortgage.

Equally, home crafts have enjoyed something of a renaissance as the 'make do and mend' mentality has become more prevalent and we enjoy taking the time to turn our houses and flats into real homes that can be enjoyed.

Making your home look great doesn't have to cost a fortune either. There are numerous, simple tricks that don't cost the earth but can make all the difference.

Try to look at your home through a stylist's eyes and you'll soon see things in a different light. For example, strategically placed candles can not only create an inviting atmosphere but they can smell fantastic too.

Even the simplest candles can make a huge impact on the atmosphere of a room. Flickering candlelight makes a room softer and more inviting than the sometimes harsh electric light. Store candles in the fridge for at least eight hours before using too as they will burn more slowly and last longer.

You might want to think about changing your home accessories according to the season.

In summer, use light cotton throws and then in winter try tactile fabrics for cushions and bed covers.

Simple changes can totally change a room, whether it's in a bedroom or the way you dress a sofa or chair. The use of different shapes can change the feel of a room, too. A curvy chair softens the look, inviting someone to curl up in it.

Try to remember to have fresh flowers. At this time of year they're usually cheap and plentiful and if you're lucky you'll have some to pick from your own garden.

Fresh flowers instantly cheer up any room. Low-maintenance indoor plants strategically placed around your home work well, too, and a delicate silk or dried flower arrangement can dress any table instantly.

Home is where the heart is - or so the saying goes. After a long day at work there's nothing better than returning home to collapse on your sofa or patio.

Creating a comfortable and inviting atmosphere is every homeowner's dream - make this year the year your home is at its best.

While the property you live in might be far from your ideal, even design experts agree that making a house a feelgood space is not about it being worthy of an interiors magazine, but ensuring it reflects who we are and how we live our lives.

HOMES & GARDENS

WHETHER it's a small courtyard or acres of lawn, as we move into summer now is the time to make sure you make the most of your outdoor space.

Look at it as an extension of your living room, creating an area where people can relax and socialize.

If you're planning to entertain outside a lot this year, take a look at your barbecue and see if it's still up to the job. There are some fantastic products on the market offering everything you could need when it comes to al fresco dining.

You might want to consider building a permanent fireplace or installing a hearth. Even if you just want somewhere to sit and chat with family and friends, choosing the right kind of outdoor furniture is important.

Again, there is a wealth of products to choose from but you need to make sure that it's weatherproof, which is why waterproof, wooden or rust-proof metal furniture is the ideal choice.

If you have plenty of outdoor space, why not think about creating separate sitting and eating areas? By putting down some decking or perhaps enclosing the sitting and eating areas with a low wall, you can distinguish them from other areas.

Pergolas also work very well when it comes to marking an area. Growing clematis or jasmine up the pergola's lattice work will allow you to enjoy the scent on a balmy summer evening. This can also provide a feeling of intimacy and enclosure while at the same time giving a sense of space that still lets in plenty of light and air.

Another thing to think about is how to arrange your furniture. Do you want to simply line up the chairs in a row - to, say, admire the view - or do you want to interact with your guests?

If you think of your outdoor space as somewhere you can actually live - at least during the summer months - you should arrange your furniture just as you would in your living room, with communication and interaction in mind.

Ideally, when it comes to the end of this long-awaited summer weather, it's a good idea to store your garden furniture so it looks as good as new for next year. If you don't have space to store it, then think about buying a weatherproof cover.

Tyrannosaurus treks

ONE of the most complete tyrannosaurus skeletons ever found is being moved across the United States of America.

Inside a museum basement in Montana, a small team of scientists have been preparing the dinosaur for an extraordinary road trip across the country.

Bones the size of a child and others that are mere fragments have been examined, photographed, checked off lists and packed in 16 wooded crates.

The 66 million-year-old T-Rex remains, one of the most complete tyrannosaurus skeletons ever discovered, are now bound for the Smithsonian's National Museum of Natural History in Washington.

Only around 50 sets of T-Rex remains have been unearthed, and only about half complete.

I feel a great sense of elation at end of each performance

As Bob Golding prepares to take on one of the British comedy greats once again, James Rampton asks him: What it is like walking in Eric Morecambe's shoes?

CAMBRIDGE-born Bob Golding is reprising one of the toughest roles in theatre. The Olivier-nominated actor will once again be donning his comedy glasses and pipe as the legendary comic Eric Morecambe.

The one-man show, directed by Paul Hendy with help from Eric's son - associate producer Gary Morecambe - is a brand new production of Tim Whitnall's Olivier Award-winning play. It comes to Harlow Playhouse on Tuesday.

Morecambe tracks the star's trajectory from music hall performances to Christmas Day extravaganzas on the telly.

"I was a jobbing actor who fell into it," says Golding. "A few years ago I approached a producer about doing a one-man play and he said 'You know what? You should play Eric Morecambe. You've got something of Eric about you'. I thought 'Actually, there's something in that'.

"Maybe it's my silliness. My kids are all daft as brushes - we come from a long line of brushes!

"I was a huge fan of Eric's. I'm a British comedy geek and you can't be a fan of British comedy without being a fan of Morecambe and Wise.

"Watching Morecambe and Wise you were guaranteed laughs. Their act was silly, and we Brits really like silly. They brought our family together, as they did everyone else's in the nation.

"I remember watching them with my nan who was laughing her head off. I was seven when the Morecambe and Wise Christmas special got 28.8 million viewers on BBC1. Over half the country was watching - can you believe that? That

But why does he think the play works so well?

"Because it's not just about Eric. I play 55 different characters. I play Eric and everyone else in his life. That gives the show real pace and energy.

"It's also a complete pleasure to perform. I did 260 performances of this show a few years ago but this is a completely new production with a new director.

"It's lovely to be back. I still get the same joy as I ever did playing Eric. I feel this great sense of elation at the end of every show.

"Eric's daughter Gail came unannounced to watch the show in Wellingborough. In the bar afterwards, I approached her and said 'You're Gail, aren't you?' She was in floods of tears."

He only started to get nervous when celebrities like Ant and Dec, Nicholas Parsons, Ronnie Corbett and Barry Cryer went to see the show.

Golding says: "I'm so glad I've done it. It's our duty to remind people why Eric and Ernie were so brilliant and why we still have this enormous love and adoration for them.

"They were two simple men who provoked a huge reaction from the whole country."

>>>Morecambe will be at Harlow Playhouse on Tuesday (April 29). Tickets cost £18-£21 and can be purchased from the box office on (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Another highly entertaining and dramatic performance review

Snow White

Harlow Ballet Association
Harlow Playhouse

SNOW White with a twist! Hayley Burns choreographed a stunning contemporary ballet based on the 19th century tale by the Brothers Grimm.

The dramatic opening funeral tableau sets the scene for a dark and refreshing interpretation

The lead roles of Snow White (Emily Bird), Ravenna (Claire Hickles) and Huntsman (Joe Bishop) were portrayed brilliantly in both dance and dramatic content.

They were supported by an army of ravens who danced with precision and superb timing to create a menacing presence. The Dark Forest was worthy of its title and the battle scene - a sword fight - was extremely exciting and perfectly executed

A lighter side was created by the arrival of villagers and young fairies who were flawless and greatly appreciated by the packed audience - you can't have a fairy tale without them. The poisoned apple sequence with the New Queen and Snow White was notably dramatic and emotional.

This production was further enhanced by thoughtful and inventive technical aspects. Lighting and projections were used to create the scenic backdrops for the journey.

Added to this the flown mirror scenes combined with fluid lighting, the stage picture was transformed into a rich tapestry of symbolism reflecting the darkest of human emotion. The choice and wide range of music also provided a rich aural dialogue and harked back to the major thematic elements of the Gothic.

This was a highly entertaining show.

Congratulations to the Harlow Ballet Association and Hayley Burns - another successful, well-rehearsed production from this reputable association with its high standards and community spirit.

MARIGOLDS JAZZ CLUB

Harlow Cricket Club, Chippingfield, Old Harlow

THE Stan Sulzmann Quartet will perform at the jazz club tomorrow (Friday).

Stan Sulzmann is one of the most highly respected musicians in the UK today, admired for his instantly recognisable sound and boundless creative imagination. With a career stretching back to the 1960s when he was part of a uniquely talented crop of British musicians as well as leading many groups of his own, he is a source of inspiration to many of Britain's emerging young jazz musicians.

Tickets cost £8 and doors open at 7.30pm.

There's a Fox in the garden

AT the end of a hard day's filming, Silent Witness star Emilia Fox likes nothing better than to venture into her oasis of calm, with its walls of lavender, pretty clematis and fragrant roses.

The south-facing garden, which complements her elegant Victorian home in west London, was lovingly created with the help of her garden designer pal, Sue Gernaey. Emilia says that if she could change her own career, she would become a gardener.

"I'm constantly begging if I can come and work for her (Sue), so I can give everything up and become a gardener," says Emilia, the daughter of actors Joanna David and Edward Fox.

The garden has been a labour of love for the 39-year-old actress, who is the face of B&Q's new campaign to replace all polystyrene packaging in its range of bedding plants and use non-peat compost.

"When I first moved in, the garden was full of rocks and stones and lots of odd protruding wood, but it had a lovely, huge bay tree and I'd always dreamed of having my own proper English country cottage garden. I've always found cottage gardens very romantic and I'm probably a bit of an old romantic.

"So, we took the whole thing out and started from scratch. It's the most rewarding thing I've ever done.

By Hannah Stephenson

"I'm a trial-and-error gardener so I always knew that the best thing to do would be to put in the things that would come up each year. Sue laughed at me because when it came to bulb planting time she asked how many I wanted to order and I just said, cram it full, and they're all coming up now – all the tulips. It's like a floral revolution out there. There are pinks, whites, and almost black tulips."

These include T. 'Mondial', 'Angelique', 'Queen of Night', 'Spring Green', 'Burgundy' and 'Albion Star'. She also has plenty of muscari and Allium 'Purple Sensation'.

"I also wanted there to be a lot of roses because when I moved in I was having my little girl, who is called Rose. So, where you sit outside to eat, there are a lot of roses. There's also a wall of lavender by the table, leading on to a traditional lawn which is curved at the top and then surrounded by beds of roses, clematis and herbs, passion flowers and myrtle, all the things that make it smell delicious in summer.

"My favourite plant is the Natasha Richardson rose, a beautiful light pink rose with an old-fashioned scent. My sister got it for me in memory of Natasha [who died in a skiing accident in 2009] and it's just outside the back door underneath the lavender wall." Emilia also wanted to try and replicate some of the sensory elements of gardens she'd experienced when living in the US.

"When I lived in Los Angeles, everywhere you went there were delicious smells at night. I knew I couldn't recreate the same thing but I wanted a similar feeling of every sense being stimulated when you go out into the garden."

This clear passion for gardening comes from her mother, she explains.

"My mum has incredibly green fingers. My childhood memories are of hyacinths and paperwhites up the stairs, while the table was always full of wild flowers and sweet peas. Now, I buy a ridiculous amount of flowers and put them outside as well, so what you look out to at the moment is lots of beautiful burgundy ranunculus and tulips and tuberosas in those old-fashioned enamel jugs.

"I've always felt that wherever you go, if you've got flowers it will feel like home."

Despite a busy acting career, Emilia tries to spend as much "therapeutic" time in the garden as she can.

"It's probably one of the most rewarding things, because you get to see the results."

She is supporting the B&Q Teabag Technology in those old-fashioned enamel jugs.

"It's key that we care about the environment as much as we care about how beautiful our gardens are," she urges.

Technology-whizz Depp living on borrowed time

TRANSCENDENCE
certificate 12A, 1h59m

MAN'S unhealthy relationship with technology takes a sinister turn in Wally Pfister's sci-fi thriller which imagines the consequences of an artificial intelligence running amok in the digital realm.

The high-brow concept of Jack Paglen's undernourished script is at odds with the whizz-bang pyrotechnics that director Pfister is asked to deliver in the muddled second act, ultimately starving the film of jeopardy.

Transcendence opens in Berkeley, California, in the aftermath of a global blackout. The narrative then rewinds to the same location five years earlier where Dr Will Caster (Johnny Depp), a pioneer in the field of artificial intelligence, lives with his wife Evelyn (Rebecca Hall).

The couple are at the forefront of a scientific vanguard, which hopes to create a machine with sentience. But extremists called R.I.F.T. (Revolutionary Independence From Technology) oppose this advancement and shoot Will with a polonium-tainted bullet.

Doctors give Dr Caster a month to live so Evelyn suggests he continues his work by uploading his mind to a super-computer. Family friend Dr Max Waters (Paul Bettany) urges caution but Evelyn ignores his warnings, desperate to cling onto her husband.

R.I.F.T. leader Bree (Kate Mara) is powerless to stop Will making the leap into the digital abyss and when Evelyn uploads him to the internet he infiltrates every hard drive on the planet.

As Will's thirst for knowledge intensifies, Dr Waters joins forces with fellow academic Joseph Tagger (Morgan Freeman), FBI agent Donald Buchanan (Cillian Murphy) and military man Colonel Stevens (Cole Hauser) to create a virus that will corrupt Will and protect mankind from his insidious influence.

Transcendence begins promisingly, setting out Will and Eve's utopian vision of cutting-edge technology to heal the planet and eradicate disease. But once radioactive isotopes are coursing through the central character's bloodstream, screenwriter Paglen struggles to sustain dramatic momentum and the final hour unfolds at a pedestrian pace that makes the running time seem closer to three hours than two.

Characters are poorly developed and the line between the supposedly evil computer and valiant human rebels is blurred to the point that we couldn't care less if our entire species is wiped out.

Depp's lifeless performance suggests a robotic doppelganger was hired to take his place while Hall and Bettany are tortured and tearful, wrestling with murky questions of morality that seem beyond the film's flimsy grasp.

If the end point - a world starved of electricity and gadgets - halts screenings of Pfister's film then perhaps there is method in R.I.F.T.'s muddled madness.

THE OTHER WOMAN
certificate 12A, 1h49m

REVENGE is a dish best served ice cold and in large portions in this romantic comedy directed by Nick Cassavetes.

Carly (Cameron Diaz) is a beautiful and independent woman with a handsome boyfriend, Mark (Nikolaj Coster-Waldau), whom she adores. But her world implodes when she learns that Mark is a fraud and he is married.

By chance, Carly crosses paths with Mark's wife Kate (Leslie Mann) and the two women unexpectedly become friends, comforting each other over the betrayal of the man they love. Sisterly solidarity solidifies when Carly and Kate discover that Mark has been cheating on both of them with another woman, Amber (Kate Upton).

Flanked by Mark's wife and his other mistress, Carly plots an outrageous plan of attack to teach Mark a lesson in good manners and humility that he will never forget.

ADVERTORIAL

THE HARLOW GATEWAY PROJECT IS NEARING COMPLETION – FINAL PHASE OF HOMES RELEASED

The highly regarded Harlow Gateway Project is nearing completion and the final phase of homes has now been released marking the end of a 9 year development programme.

The Harlow Gateway Project in Essex saw Barratt Homes undertake a £42 million building master plan as part of a government initiative to provide much needed housing, which was an integral part of Harlow's regeneration strategy. The housing element combined with other community initiatives, including athletics track, a football stadium and a community leisure centre, have all been pivotal in creating a new community which in turn has benefitted the local economy.

Karly Williams, Head of Sales for Barratt Homes North London commented, "The Harlow Gateway Project was designed to create a new community and it is evident today that this has been a tremendous success. There has been a huge intake of buyers from East London and along the A10 corridor looking for new build, quality affordable housing and the government backed 'Help to Buy' scheme has been instrumental in making the move possible for many of the new residents. After 9 years of development and to witness a new thriving community adjacent to a 164 acre park, it really is a case of mission accomplished."

With the Harlow Gateway Project scheduled to be completed by December 2014 Barratt Homes are delighted to announce the final phase at 'Belmont Place' and the last remaining apartments at 'Fifth Avenue' are now both on sale and will represent the last ones to be built on the Harlow Gateway Project.

Belmont Place brings to the market a selection of three and four bedroom family houses that offer adaptable living. They have separate utility rooms, en-suites, and private allocated parking.

The award winning Fifth Avenue offers contemporary one bedroom apartments that come with a separate fitted kitchen, complete with integrated oven, hob & extractor hood, crisp white bathroom suite, adaptable living area, private parking and makes an ideal first home.

The recent government-backed Help to Buy scheme is available at Belmont Place and Fifth Avenue. Through the scheme homebuyers will require only a 5% deposit to buy one of the brand new Barratt Homes. The government will lend the purchaser up to 20% of the purchase price, meaning the buyer need only apply for a 75% mortgage.

Harlow train station is less than half a mile from the new properties at Belmont Place and Fifth Avenue and connects with London Liverpool Street in just 30 minutes with trains departing every seven minutes at peak times. Express services to Stansted also pass through Harlow train station, reaching the airport in just 20 minutes for travel to most worldwide destinations. The M11 is just four miles away, while the M25 and A414 are nearby for access to the Capital, as well as the surrounding towns of Hertford, St Albans and Chelmsford.

Currently available at Belmont Place are three, four bedroom family houses starting from £299,950. Prices at Fifth Avenue start at £164,950 for a one bedroom apartment.

For more information on Belmont Place and Fifth Avenue or Help to Buy in general, please call 08448 117171 or visit www.barratthomes.co.uk.

Scrap Cars

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Joy for siblings

THE newly-launched Talent Development Centre at the BATTs table tennis club in Old Harlow is certainly paying off.

Siblings Casey and Alana Mansfield have enjoyed huge success since securing top coaching at the centre, based at the Norman Booth Leisure Centre.

Both Casey and Alana have qualified to compete in the Butterfly English National School Championships this weekend.

Casey will compete in the U-13 boys' and Alana in the U-11 girls' to be held at Doncaster in Yorkshire.

Competitions are held at Under 11, 13, 16 and 19 level for both boys and girls.

This is the largest one-day event in the table tennis calendar in England.

Following these championships, the English Schools' Table Tennis Association will select representative teams to play in an invitation international to be held in June with teams from England, Guernsey, Ireland, the Isle of Man, Scotland, and Wales all competing.

The siblings train at least 10 hours a week.

In the East Regional Nationals held at Stowmarket, Casey was seventh in the U-12s and ninth in the U-13s.

Alana won the U-11 section and was third in the U-12s to qualify for the English National Championships at Doncaster in May 2014.

Talk of the Troon

GABRIELLA Cowley will represent England Golf in the Nations Cup event at the Helen Holm Scottish open stroke play championship at Royal Troon from April 25-27.

The following weekend, May 3-4, the Harlow-based golfer will team up with fellow international, Alex Peters, for the Nations Cup event at the Welsh open stroke play championship at Prestatyn.

Blewitt blow as point is made

Needham Market 1
Harlow Tn 1 (Ryan League, division one north)

A FREAK 85th-minute equaliser from George Smith secured a crucial point for Harlow Town and delivered a massive dent to big-spending Needham Market's play-off aspirations.

Smith's cross found the net after an error from Marketmen keeper Andrew Plummer to cancel out Ryan Crisp's 49th-minute opener.

It left the Hawks with one hand on a play-off spot and kept them three points clear of Needham.

However, Harlow were left to rue a knee injury to skipper Darren Blewitt, which could rule him out for the rest of the season.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "We are just hoping it's not too serious. He won't be playing at Brentwood on Saturday."

After Leon Antoine's shot was well saved, Hawks keeper Daniel Knowles denied former Hawks star Dave Cowley.

He pulled off a smart save from the winger's free-kick from the edge of the area to send the sides in goalless at the half-time break.

Just two minutes after the break Cowley was denied what appeared to be a certain goal, but Hawks centre-half Joshua Urquhart reacted brilliantly to make a last-ditch challenge and thwart the danger.

However, the home side did not have to wait long to break the deadlock as Crisp struck just two minutes later.

Stan Muguo's poor clearance from a Michael Brothers cross fell at the feet of Crisp inside the area who made no mistake to lash a left-footed shot past the helpless Knowles and into the bottom left corner.

Needham continued to dominate and came close to doubling their advantage five minutes later as Crisp out-muscled Layne Eadie before picking out Brothers who could only fire an effort into the side netting.

James Smith was denied superbly by Plummer.

At the other end, Knowles kept the Hawks in the match in the 80th minute.

Crisp jinked his way past Donny Barnard before unleashing a powerful low shot across goal which the Harlow custodian superbly tipped around a post.

This proved key as Harlow scored their fortunate equaliser.

In the dying moments Sam Newson's effort was well saved by Knowles as Needham's own play-off hopes went up in smoke.

Chapman added: "I think a draw was a fair result. In the first half we were the better side, but we looked tired in the second half, we were a little bit leggy."

SIGNING IN: Great Britain's Adam Hickey signs a GB vest for members (s)

GB hopeful a coaching treat at athletic club

THERE was a treat for junior members at Harlow Athletic Club when highly-rated Great Britain long distance runner Adam Hickey ran a coaching session.

Hickey, ranked the top five mile runner in the UK in 2013-14, visited the club at its base at Mark Hall Sportscentre and spoke to members and signed autographs.

Hickey is coached by Olympic 10,000m athlete Eamonn Martin, from Basildon, who was the last British winner of the London Marathon with a time of 2 hours, 10 minutes and 50 seconds.

Southend-based Hickey led a coaching session for the club's young athletes.

He is a member of the Great Britain senior men's cross country team and won a bronze team medal at the European Cross Country Championships last winter.

He also has a super fast 5,000m personal best time of 13.41.

Harlow Athletic Club coach Paul Bailey, also an Essex county coach, said: "Adam was introduced to the club and put the kids through their paces during training."

"This is all part of our ongoing programme to bring GB athletes to the club to inspire our youngsters."

Volleyball club seals first ever Essex League title

THE Harlow Volleyball Club's men team triumphed in their last Essex League match in Southend by three sets to one and became champions.

The Passmore Academy based team finished above Brentwood, Tendring, Chelmsford and Southend.

The club was only formed three years ago and this was the first time it had won a league title.

Delighted head coach Ilia Kalanov said: "To me it was no surprise because I know their very high abilities and always believed they could do it."

"This team is capable of achieving much more and I hope it is about to come."

The club's women's team beat Brentwood in their latest match and are second in the table.

"We are still without our [injured] setter, which is a big miss for the team but we still managed to stay second. I am really happy with what both teams are doing and achieving so far and I am sure we are on the right road," Kalanov said.

"The team is progressing and showing that soon we will be able to compete with the best in Essex."

World champ and Bowen lined up for GB event

CURRENT world champion and former Rye House Rocket Tai Woffinden will be the star attraction when the Hoddesdon circuit hosts the semi-final of this year's British Championship on April 30 (7.30pm).

Woffinden, who rode for Rye House in 2007 and 2008, is sure to attract a bumper crowd to the event.

He will join Harlow's Luke Bowen, who has also been picked for the team.

Woffinden, 23, born in Scunthorpe, is also the defending national champion, and has been drawn to ride at the Hertfordshire track, with seven-time titlist Scott Nicholls and Lakeside star Lewis Bridger also set to feature.

The Rockets will be represented in the round by National League Riders' champion Steve Boxall and Jason Garrity, who recorded a seventh place finish in the final last year, as well as former Mark Hall School student Bowen.

Bowen had initially been overlooked with riders of a lesser average selected, but after promoter Len Silver lodged an official complaint to the British Speedway Promoters' Association, he has now been included.

Silver is delighted to see Woffinden named in the field.

"I am absolutely over the moon to know that Tai will be coming home to one of his original stamping grounds," he said.

"I know that Rye House supporters will turn up in big numbers to cheer him on, together with Steve and Jason."

Kinney completes Boston Marathon

HARLOW Running Club member Andy Kinney returned to the Boston Marathon to finish a race he was unable to do last year because of the bomb attack.

Kinney finished in 30,811th place out of more than 36,000 finishers in an emotional 5 hours, 56 minutes and 34 seconds.

Meanwhile, at the Chelmsford Park run 5K, David Page finished in 115th place out of 402 finishers in 24.00.

At the St Albans Park run 5K, Richard Solomons was 161st place in 26.46.

At the Gunpowder Park run 5K in Waltham Abbey, Vicky Calver finished in 91st place out of 125 finishers in a personal best time for the distance of 29.57, just a week after completing her debut marathon.

Robin Lozeau was 148th place out of 192 finishers in 39.12 at the Victoria Park five-mile race.

At the Compton 20-mile race, held over a hilly off road course on the Berkshire Downs, Sean Flynn finished in 76th place out of 195 competitors in 3:15.14.

Gymnasts on song in finals

AISHA Jones (11) and Rosie Bennett (11) gave an impressive performance for Harlow Gymnastics Club at the Eastern regional final in Ipswich, Suffolk.

The duo previously qualified to compete for Essex after a series of excellent performances when up against representatives from Suffolk, Hertfordshire, Norfolk, Cambridgeshire and Essex.

Taking part in the club grade 11 age 10/11 event, Aisha finished in eighth place overall with a score of 45.30 after placing sixth on bars and sixth on beam. Rosie finished in ninth place overall with a score of 44.80 in the club grade 11 age 12+ competition.

She also placed sixth on vault and sixth on beam.

Coach and club co-owner Peter James said: "This is a high level of gymnastics and is about as good as it gets for local gymnasts."

"The elite gymnasts from every local club may be selected by their club to compete at the county qualifier event. Gymnasts who place in the top six overall at county level for their respective grade qualify to represent their county at the regional competition."

"Rosie Bennett placed second for grade 11 age 12+ and Aisha Jones placed third in grade 11 age 10-11 at the Essex qualifiers in February. This is the highest level of competition that exists for gymnasts before national levels (which start at grade 8)."

The Harlow Gymnastics Club is based at Summers Leisure Centre in Broadley Road.

Eastern promise for HAC at junior league meeting

SMALL proved plentiful as juniors from Harlow Athletic Club produced a big performance in the Eastern Young Athletes League.

Young members were certainly inspired by Harlow's Lewis Harknett's time of 17.41 minutes, which secured him 51st place (out of 285) in the London Mini Marathon.

At Woodford there were some good performances in the younger age groups but perhaps the most notable performances came in the senior age group (U-17).

Naomi Harryman jumped impressively again and notched wins in the high jump (1.71m) and long jump (5.43m). Naomi is respectively ranked first and eighth nationally for these two events.

In the field events Hannah Owen, making her Eastern Young Athletes League debut, picked up wins in the B javelin (14.98m) and B discus (16.97m).

In the A javelin, Ellie Williams took third place with a new personal best (PB) of 18.37m.

The U-17 boys were just as impressive with wins for Mohamed Tamedou (11.57s) and Dylan Ellis (11.69s) in the 100m A and B events.

Their endeavour was matched in the 200m by Harry Woodall (24.25s, PB), and Shemar Boldiszar (23.68s).

The sprinting success was completed with a 4x100m second place finish in a time of 46.25s, just .02 seconds behind host team Woodford.

In the field, Will Marklew threw 43.40m for second in the javelin and leapt 1.75m in the high jump; beating Tamedou, who jumped the same height, on count-back.

Joe Bailey jumped a PB distance of 11.34m for second in the triple jump and Adam Defoe, on club debut, collected second in the B event jumping 9.47m.

Lottie Rowedder, making her track debut, took second in the U-15 girls' 1,500m.

Lauren Barker triumphed in the U-13 girls' shot put and James Murphy and Kai Boggan won the U-13 A and B boys' 1,500m.

Club coach, Steve Lott, said: "The results show the quality of the athletes we currently have and reward the endeavour of a hugely committed coaching team."

"The youth team is all about producing the type of athlete that will enhance our senior sides and on this evidence our senior men and women's teams can look forward with confidence to the coming season and beyond."

Silver joy for Luke at Great Britain Championships

SILVER STAR: Harlow Jiu Jitsu Club member Luke Shipwright, right, with his silver medal and Sensei Dave Rintoul 6th Dan (s)

LUKE Shipwright (25) claimed a silver medal at the British Jiu Jitsu Association Great Britain (BJJGB) National Championships.

The Harlow Jiu Jitsu Club member took part in the continuous fighting categories (up to 98kg) along with eight others from different clubs at the event in Walsall in the West Midlands.

Continuous fighting consists of a number of minutes sparring, followed by the competitors taking a hold and trying to throw their opponent.

This lasts for a few seconds after which time they then switch to groundwork, which lasts for a few minutes.

If there is no outright winner in that time, it goes to a judge's decision.

Shipwright also took part in the random attacks category but was unsuccessful.

After the competition, there was a gala dinner, attended by a number of senior Senseis.

Presentations were made at the end of the meal to those Senseis who have been awarded a higher dan grade.

Sensei Dave Rintoul from the Harlow Jiu Jitsu Club was taken by surprise when he was awarded his sixth dan.

Up to and including fifth dan, students are graded in front of senior senseis.

Grades after that are awarded and students have to be nominated by others.

Sensei Rintoul was a fifth dan for about eight years.

Shipwright and around 12 of the Harlow Jiu Jitsu Club juniors will be taking part in the international competition to be held in Southend on May 17.

This course and competition will be attended by a number of foreign senior senseis.

Harlow Jiu Jitsu club meets at the Great Parndon Community Association in Abercrombie Way on Mondays and Fridays.

High hopes for former Harlow ace McGarry

SAWBRIDGEWORTH Cricket Club have high hopes for their first team in the new-look Hertfordshire Premier League, under the captaincy of Andy McGarry, pictured below.

The former Essex all-rounder caused a stir when he quit Sawbridgeworth's close neighbours Harlow to come in at Town Fields earlier this year. He replaces Danny Wilson as captain.

The club have also signed wicket-keeper/batsman Alex Axon, who arrives from Knebworth Park, and seamer George Kenny who has also come from Harlow.

The Herts Premier League starts on May 3 and Sawbridgeworth have been handed a tough home game to start against one of the title favourites, Radlett.

They then visit Potters Bar, followed by a home match against close rivals Bishop's Stortford.

The new league was formed after some Hertfordshire teams broke away from the old Home Counties Premier League.

There is no Herts Cup this year, as it is being replaced by a T20 competition.

Sawbridgeworth are in a group with Harpenden, Letchworth, Hertford and Knebworth Park.

McGarry's men are hosting Harpenden and Letchworth in a home double header on Monday May 5 (noon & 4pm starts) and are away to Hertford on Sunday June 29 (4.30pm).

In the Conference Cup, Sawbo are at home to Kent Premier side Bickley Park on Sunday May 25 (1pm start).

Meanwhile Harlow will launch their competitive season in earnest when they visit Harold Wood in a Dukes League Cup match this Saturday.

This will be Rehman Ahmed's first competitive game in charge since he was appointed as captain in place of Luke Heskett.

Their Shepherd Neame Essex League division one campaign begins on Saturday May 10 with a home match against Wickford.

Harlow Town host Ardleigh Green in the Dukes League Cup this Saturday.

The team are still looking for a scorer.

WEST Ham striker Andy Carroll was the guest of honour as the Hawks grabbed a late equaliser to seal their place in the end-of-season play-offs in Ryman League division one north.

The England striker, whose girlfriend is TOWIE television star Billie Mucklow, was reportedly watching a friend who plays for Harlow Town's opponents Maldon & Tiptree United in Easter Monday's Essex derby.

It is believed to be his first visit to The Harlow Arena and Harlow Town FC secretary Ray Dyer managed to get his photo taken with the pony-tailed hitman.

Dyer said: "He was there with friends watching someone they know playing for Maldon and Tiptree."

On the pitch the combination of 51-goal striker Alex Read's 88th-minute equaliser – and Soham's win over Needham Market – secured a play-off spot for Danny Chapman's men.

Soham overturned a 1-0 deficit with SIX MINUTES left to secure a 2-1 victory in their match – and seal Harlow's spot in the top five.

It means Harlow, who dropped to fourth, are four points clear of sixth-placed Needham with just one game left.

Against Maldon, Ed Thompson came in for keeper Daniel Knowles to make his home debut for Harlow.

Harlow went in front on 21 minutes through James Smith, who rifled home after a neat pass from his brother George.

However, Jack Stevenson levelled on 55 minutes with a shot which gave Thompson no chance.

And on 81 minutes Ryan Wade nodded in to make it 2-1 to the visitors and, with Needham winning at that time, Harlow looked like they might need snookers.

But Read then netted on 88 minutes to kick start the celebrations in The Harlow Arena.

Hawks boss Chapman was delighted to seal a play-off spot. He told the Star: "It's an achievement when you think how far this club has come in the space of one season. We nearly got relegated a year ago, and now we could be promoted.

attitude we have."

HARLOW TOWN: Thompson, Barnard (Stamp), Eadie, Urquhart, Antoine, Glowacki, Martin, Muguo, Read, J. Smith (Curley), G. Smith.

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman is not bothered if his side draw bogey side Heybridge Swifts or anyone else in the play-off semi-final.

Harlow Town are likely to be away in the play-off semi-final next Tuesday, most probably at VCD or Heybridge.

Chapman said: "Our away form has been better than our home form. If we get an away game I am not concerned about it. If the boys perform to the level they can perform at we can beat anyone."

"You could look at it both ways. The law of averages says we have got to beat Heybridge at some time."

"And we have beaten VCD twice so they will be saying the same thing about us."

"The play-offs are a lottery – it's about what side turns up on the day."

Chapman will rest several players for Saturday's league match at Brentwood.

Centre-half and skipper Darren Blewitt (knee) is a big doubt, as is right-back Junior Dadson (hamstring).

However, midfielder Fabion Simms (hamstring) and keeper Daniel Knowles, unavailable against Maldon, should return.

Harlow are now unbeaten in 12 matches.
